CITY COUNCIL GETS NUMEROUS KNOCKS IN DISCUSSION OF THE MONEY BYLAWS

Public Meeting in Separate School Hall Was Crowded and the Debate Was Heated, Sometimes Rather Disorderly—Speakers Objected to all Extensions of Street Railway Being Put Into One Bylaw—Sectional Differences Crop Up.

Last night's public meeting to consider the money bylaws that come before the ratepayers on the twentieth of this month, was a very lively affair. The Separate School Hall was well filled, and the interest taken in the discussion was keen.

Mayor Lee occupied the chair and was supported by Aldermen Gariety, Landy and Hyndman. The Mayor opened the meeting by pointing out what the various bylaws were for.

"The first one, No. 255," said Mr. Candy, "is to raise $40,000 for the construction of the hall." The assessors and the city clerk's department are both very much overruled. The police department also needs more room. No. 256 is for the purpose of raising $2,000 for extensions to the telephone system.

As the city increases in size it is found necessary to extend the municipal utilities. The same thing may be said of No. 257 which is to raise $10,000 for extensions to the electric light system.

"No. 258 is to raise $34,500 for two new fire halls and a hose tower at No. 3 station. Both of these fire halls will not be built this year. Two sites have been secured, one on Norwood boulevard and the other on Sixteenth street. It will be determined which one is most needed this year and it will be erected. The other one will be built next year."

"No. 259 is to raise $60,000 for the erection of new car barns, which will include repair bays. These new barns will hold 50 cars."

"No. 260 calls for $20,000 to be expended on street railway extensions as follows: Paving and double tracking Namayo avenue from the end of the present pavement to Norwood boulevard, with several diamonds at the railway crossings; twelve new cars; the Syndicate avenue extension to the East End park; paving and double tracking Jasper avenue east, and getting a new sprinkler."

"No. 261 asks for $35,000 as the city's share of paving extensions on Namayo avenue, Jasper avenue, and Second street."

"No. 262 is for the city's share of building a bridge over the Great Ravine on the Athabasca avenue extension; and No. 263 is for $500 for the installation of a police telegraph signal system."

"No. 264 is for $3,500 to complete the filtration plant and No. 265 for $3,500 for a wooden bridge across the ravine on Jasper avenue east."

Mayor Lee then took up bylaw No. 266, to raise $16,000 to complete the power house and plant. He pointed out that $5,000 of this amount was the overestimate on the new pumping station, and $4,000 over estimate on the gas producer plant.

His worship then threw the meeting open.

"Why are all the street railway except Taylor's Report Read.

Ex-Alderman Jack Calhoun next took the platform and harangued the council with Supt. Taylor's famous street railway report. After he got through he said he would like to hear the excuses the aldermen had to give for not adopting the code he could do.

REFORM NECESSARY ALL ALONG THE LINE

The report of Mr. W. J. Francis is a document that the people of Edmonton are likely to grow enthusiastic over, but it is one that should cause them to do some quiet and rapid thinking. Still it doesn't bring out much information that the people haven't hitherto had the opportunity of becoming familiar with. One of the first tasks which the Daily Capital set itself after its establishment was to investigate thoroughly the history and present conditions of the different city utilities. A series of articles was written which made it quite clear that for years the municipality has been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars with little idea where it was all leading to, no general plan underlying its operations, the absence of which would spell bankruptcy, with any private corporation. Each year brought in a new council with new ideas. The permanency of policy which the commission system was supposed to give was impossible, with the constant interference in the details of the work by the elected representatives of the people. In my personal foolish practice was followed, large interests being committed to the care of officials at salaries which should have been many times as large those paid, in order to ensure such services as were required. Mr. Francis does well not to place the responsibility on individuals. That many employees have fallen down seriously is certain, but what is responsible is the system under which they have been appointed and carried on their work. A complete change is imperative. That it has been so long delayed shows an apathy on the part of the citizens at large which is hard to reconcile with their well-deserved reputation for public-spiritedness in most matters. If the present council doesn't start in right-away to adopt broad-gauge methods, a movement should be speedily organized to place those in power next December who will. We have too much at stake in Edmonton to allow continuance of existing conditions a week longer than is absolutely necessary.

MR. CUSHING EXPLAINS HIS COURSE

Hon. W. H. Cushing, when in Winnipeg, gave out an interview, in which he set forth his reasons for retiring from the Alberta cabinet. This has been sent all over the country. Here is an extract from it:

"When the legislation was put through the house in the winter session of 1909," continued Mr. Cushing "nothing of that kind was provided for. On the contrary the bill had provided for the guarantee of the company's bonds at $25,000 a mile for fifty miles. To that time, said the ex-minister, the administration of the railway had been in his department. It had, however, been taken out of his hands, and placed in the Premier's.

"People, he noticed, were asking why he, as a member of the government, had allowed things to get to that pass without protesting. The explanation that he had seen in the house was that he only returned to the house during the final of the session and at a moment when protest was practically impossible."

The statement that there was "a guarantee of $25,000 for fifty miles" is, of course, incorrect, and Mr. Cushing should use every effort, if the mistake is not his own, to have a correction given as complete publicity as the interview.

The ex-minister's explanation of why he did not protest when the A. & G. W. legislation was before the House, is interesting. This is a question which has been asked many times. But why did he not resist from the cabinet when he came back from the hospital and found that maters were not to his liking? The government went to the country immediately after the session and made its railway policy the chief issue. This agreement with the A. & G. W. company was one of the principal features of that policy. Mr. Cushing not only said nothing against it but in the course of a speech at Bankview Presbyterian church, Calgary, strongly criticized Mr. Bennett for his attacks upon it and dwelt upon the benefits which would accrue to the province from the enterprise.

Read the portion of that speech dealing with the A. & G. W., which has already appeared more than once in these columns, and then read Mr. Cushing's explanation of his course in the extract from the Winnipeg interview quoted above. If you can do so and still maintain that the ex-minister has been acting in the matter from the high motives that many people are disposed to give him credit for, your case is surely a hopeless one.

Governments have been frequently criticized very justly for carrying through legislation of a far-reaching character without giving the people a chance to approve or disapprove of it. But in this case the administration lost no time in dissolving the House and asking the electors to approve of what they had done. If there was anything wrong with it, an opportunity was thus given to bring about the defeat of the party responsible and reverse the legislation before it went into law. Mr. Bennett, Mr. Ewing and other Conservative candidates attempted to persuade the electorate that the government was guilty of a piece of folly. But Mr. Cushing, Mr. Boyle and other Liberal members now described as insurgents, appealed to the electors as members and supporters of the administration. If they had any fault to find with the A. & G. W. arrangement, that was the time for them to range themselves alongside Mr. Bennett. But instead of doing so, they assisted in bringing about an overwhelming Liberal victory.

Some months after the election, certain cabinet changes had to be made. Certain other matters of policy, quite apart from the railway guarantees, had to be decided. Out of these personal and sectional feelings arose, which led a section of the party to desire to oust the government. Some excuse for a movement against it had to be found and this A. & G. W. contract, which lent itself admirably, as most railway agreements do, to a campaign based on insinuation, was picked upon as affording the best opportunity. This is the meaning of the whole movement that has caused such a stir both at home and abroad and the more Mr. Cushing attempted to explain his course, the more like a dead dog it appeared. Eastern papers in commenting on the affair assure that the crisis is now before the people of the province for the first time. Their mistake is quite pardonable. Neither they nor anybody else can understand how men of intelligence can go to their electors and be returned on a certain definite policy, which the candidates of the other party have challenged, and then a few months later conspire to defeat the administration because of the policy which they had themselves so warmly supported.

THE MARKET SITE

The riotous scenes at the council on Tuesday night, when the market question was being discussed do not body no credit. Citizens should be encouraged to place their views before the Mayor and aldermen, but they should be required to do so in a decent orderly fashion. As to the market question itself, it looks as if we still have to decide in Edmonton whether the people are to govern or not.

If they want the market in a certain place, and say so by a majority of two to one, the council has no alternative but to go ahead and erect it there. At least, that is what the people accustomed to civic conditions outside of Russia would say. The aldermen have no right to argue the matter at this stage and the attitude which they have assumed is an insult to the intelligence of the citizens. Of course, when in the council meetings it has been assumed that the question was still an open one, it was not at all surprising that a delegation should have come along and used strong language in favor of the street site. But the whole discussion is clearly out of order.

This year's election in Indiana will really be a national rather than merely a state affair. The western states of the American union, like the eastern provinces of the Dominion, stand to gain less by a high trust-creating tariff than do the eastern states and provinces where the manufacturing interest centre. Down in Indiana even the Republicans are realizing this and are protesting strongly against its railway policy, the chief issue. This agreement with the A. & G. W. company was one of the principal features of that policy. Mr. Cushing not only said nothing against it but in the course of a speech at Bankview Presbyterian church, Calgary, strongly criticized Mr. Bennett for his attacks upon it and dwelt upon the benefits which would accrue to the province from the enterprise.

Mr. Bennett is going to do himself no ultimate good in Calgary. But if he loves the C. P. R. more ardently than Alberta, if he would rather be their faithful solicitor than a popular hero, let him go. The people of this province are beginning to think in terms of $26,000,000 taxes and to ask themselves who will be Attorney-General if Boyle is. Why is not Boyle the man at the helm? Is he not the leader of the opposition? Who will fight the tax case if Boyle is Attorney-General? Imagine the C. P. R. prosecuting to collect $26,000,000 taxes for Alberta!

Compare with the newly-born Bennett enthusiasm with the modest dignity of the Attorney-General. For five years Mr. Cross has toiled away quietly at the big tax case, quietly compiling a history of every section of land ever owned by the C. P. R., quietly preparing the data and bringing the facts. Without ostentation he has regard to the people's position, and although the battle is near at hand, the battle scene the greatest tribunal in the world, the state one of the most gigantic in the history of litigation, the case has not had a column of space in the provincial papers in a year! And Mr. Bennett is in the lime-light in the "interest" of the public, as a public man, privileged to withhold what he claims to know, although what the case demands is facts!

SHEEP BREEDERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Regret is Expressed That This Profitable Industry is Being Allowed to Decline

One Calgary Man's Opinion of Another

(Calgary Optimist)

Mr. R. B. Bennett is heavy on the dramatic effect. Even I noticed that the night he took the stool to Edmonton. Everyone noticed. He came in like the star performer, truly. In any classless theatre he would have received the glad hand. Mr. Boyle was speaking, and must have suffered excruciating embarrassment. No one remembered Boyle, although he tried to keep on talking. He must have cursed Bennett between words. Mr. Bennett blew in like a newborn chinook, and the way he emptied his grab-bag of voluminous documents would have done credit to a millionaire's chief clerk.

Now he says he won't answer. He emphatically avers that "large financial interest" (heavy on the large) approached him to ask that he would not attack the A. & G. W. He has not said that "large financial interest" has not approached him to ask that he do attack it. Have the Premiers to protect him from the Optimist, but he did not say that no T. R. O. official or underling had ever instructed him to fight the A. & G. W. till the time regions were all.

It is to be recalled to appear before the Commission as a "public man" in defense of the public wealth. When he comes that game he comes as the wolf in lamb's wool, and we all know it. Not only C. P. R. interests prompt the "afternoon" of which mention was made by Commission lawyers, but also the Conservative party, whose interests I am not opposing, no less than the ambition to consume the spot and strive for leadership. He declares he knows things, but he declines to tell them. You remember that he declared constituted a portion of his encyclopedic wisdom didn't catch on, and no sooner had he given it speech than he swallowed it like a chameleon swallows its tongue. Now he "knows things," and in a most unfair fashion, in the fashion of the eternal bluffer, he remarks in an aside that the government don't want him to tell it. You have heard people declare in public that they know damaging truths about you, what for? They say, they will withhold. That is the Bennett way.

Bennett is blustering. He knows nothing that no one else does not know. His cannon will prove a trap. He will get a lot of publicity and fail to make good. He knows the terms of the contract. He knows, as everyone else believes, that big interests are behind the deal, with big possibilities for Alberta. He knows that the assurance of these big possibilities prompted the government to meet the A. & G. W. promoters, Calgary men who conscientiously criticize the deal are coming to the conclusion that the A. & G. W. will be joined from the south by one of America's greatest railway systems.

This fact prompts, more than anything else, his opposition. The C. P. R. has long fought the Great Northern. At a great cost it is building into Great Northern terminals, and it is trying to stay in advance of the Great Northern in Canada. We did not leave school yesterday, you and I bers in the sheep industry. The second directory includes a list of 250 breeders, whereas the directory issued a year ago only contained the names of 52 sheepmen. The directory has been sent to wool buyers throughout the Dominion, with the hope that some buyers having the names of Alberta sheepmen before them, and who have not in the past been buying wool in Alberta, may be induced to enter the field and provide additional competition in the purchase of wool.

It was considered advisable to issue a second edition of the directory, and cuts showing a diagram of the location of points of the sheep both alive and in the carcass have been obtained through the courtesy of the Live Stock Commissioner's branch at Ottawa, and have been inserted in the directory, with the hope that this information will be useful particularly to beginners in the sheep industry. The association has a balance on hand of $30,954.

Decline of the Industry.

It is greatly regretted that in spite of the fact that sheep will produce larger profit for the amount of money expended and the feed consumed than any other kind of live stock, they are allowed to diminish in number. The number of sheep shipped by rail in the Province of Alberta during 1909 was 37,024, valued approximately at $266,192. The wool clip is estimated at about 400,000 pounds, which was sold at an average of about one cent per lb.

It is to be hoped that the association in conjunction with the department of agriculture, will be able to inaugurate some plan which will tend to stimulate the production of sheep in the province.

A NICE RETURN FOR SERVICES

Jack Winchester, by his Trip to Ottawa to Help Exploit this City. Forfeits a Month's Salary.

The actions of some wise men are beyond the comprehension of ordinary mortals. It was no doubt, a great surprise to the majority of Edmontonians, to hear that the city had held back Jack Winchester's salary for the month he was away with the Edmonton hockey club on the quest after the Stanley Cup. That is a fine piece of work, also magnificent encouragement of athletes to magnify their time in an endeavor to further the city's interests by publicity. What local business man would have梦told one of his employees, in like manner? Not one, well-wager. But, Mr. Winchester, an employee of the very city, which he was endeavoring to exploit returns, and finds that his salary has been deducted.

Just a few weeks ago the council granted a large sum of money (some where in the thousands of dollars) to the Board of Trade, for publicity purposes, and in the next breath, they hold back $57 from a member of a team which has done as much to advertise Edmonton as any other seven, or for all that seven hundred men in this city.

How is it, that when in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto or any eastern city, one hears nothing else but "Edmonton?" For the one person that knows about Calgary, there are a hundred who sing the praises of this city. It is largely due to the fact that a hockey team travelled down east in a private car, and attended by due publicity from newspapers all over Canada. This publicity was freely given to a body of men who were not afraid to travel thousands of miles and range themselves against the very finest hockey team in the world. Everybody admired the pluck of the Edmonton hockeyists and also the enterprise of the citizens, who by their cash donations made the trip possible.

And, now, because Jack Winchester played on this team, and played well, he is to be deprived of his salary for the month he was away.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the special committee which will consider this case, will see things in a different light from the members of the council on Tuesday evening.

MARATHON FOR TORONTO

Toronto, Ont., April 5.—President James J. McCaffery, of the Toronto ball club arranged when in New York to have the new Island Stadium included in the big racing circuit with the Polo Grounds, New York; Forbes' Field in Pittsburgh, and the new ball grounds at Buffalo.

Two big mile races are slated for Toronto, a 20 mile event on Saturday afternoon, May 7, and a race of the full Marathon distance on the night of the 24th of May.

The following runners have already signed for the race: Ljungstrom, Meadows, Crowley, St. Vives, Acose, Zanit, Durando, Sellen.

Sommers is Champion

Sydney, N.S., April 7.—John Sommers, of England, knocked out H. Meggin today in the nineteenth round, of the fight for the light weight championship of Australia.

President Lynch has appointed a math teacher for his National League staff. The latest appointment is Dr. Wm Van Cleef of Trenton. For several years Van Cleef has been unimpressive amateur, college, and semi-pro games in and around New Jersey and is well spoken of.

Their battle with the Doves on Thursday was the first real game the Highlanders ever had with a National League team. If they clean up the National Leagues as easily when they get to be American League champions there won't be much to the world's championship.

Ty Cobb is threatened with malaria and may not be on hand when the pennant season opens.

CALGARY'S NEW BALL PARK

The Grounds are Just West of the Mission Bridge—Plant Will Cost $4,000—Grounds Comprise 5 Acres.

Calgary, April 6.—Yesterday the directors of the Calgary Ball Club completed arrangements for grounds for the season. They are just west of the Mission bridge. The directors secured five acres, which has been leased from Mr. McHugh on a five year term.

Work will be commenced on the grounds next Monday. Fences, grand stands and bleachers at a cost of $4,000 will be erected and the diamond laid off, and when completed it will be one of the best grounds on the circuit.

Half the money has now been subscribed, and it is now necessary to have the support of the citizens to assist in selling the balance of the stock. The club is capitalized for $10,000. Sixty per cent of this is required immediately and the balance if required can be called on at ten per cent, per call on a notice of thirty days.

The directors consider this lease a good investment, as it will be fitted up as a good athletic grounds, to be used for lacrosse, football and other athletic purposes.

Felix McHugh has given the club a very generous deal. The lease calls for five years with privilege of renewing when the lease expires.

THEY FOUGHT WITH DIFFICULTY

Two Pugs Pulled Off a Fight in the Heavy Underbrush, Beside a River—Tickets Were $10 Each.

Winnipeg, Man., April 5.—Concealed by dense underbrush in an obscure bend of the Mississippi river, bordering on Winona, two prize fighters introduced by the referee as Bill Baxter of Milwaukee, and Charles Parker, of Milwaukee, pulled off one of the liveliest mills in the northwestern ring of the pugilists. The authorities of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa were watching for the party which left Winona Saturday night, with a steamer and barge, on which the latter a ring had been built. They were trailed by launch near Dubuque, Iowa, but returned early this morning to a point about thirty miles below Winona, where the fight took place. About two hundred attended, paying five and ten dollars for seats. Baxter won the bout.

If your daughter yearns for jewels that will make a fair bride, or she would be a leader, where some other matron sways, if you wish to give up toiling, and in comfort spend your days, there's a way—don't overlook it—raise a pig.

If you're sick of serving others and are looking for a change, if you wish to gaze at wonders that are far away and strange, raise a pig.

If your son would squander money on a chorus girl, if you wish to own a castle having walls inlaid with pearl, if your darling daughter wishes to be married to an earl, there's a way—don't overlook it—raise a pig.

If within the senate chamber you would like to hold a seat, if you wish to be untroubled, by the rising price of meat, raise a pig.

If you wish to get from under, the big burdens which you bear, if you wish to go to Wall street and create a future there, if in short, you have a longing to become a millionaire, there's a way—don't overlook it—raise a pig.

Exempt, Mr. Cousins

John Cousins, former secretary of the Winnipeg baseball club, arrived in Winnipeg from Brandon recently. Mr. Cousins considers he got treated pretty badly in not getting the job as secretary treasurer of the Western Canada league, as he says that all but two of the clubs had promised him their support. He leaves for the east today, where he will enter the silk thread business, in which he was interested before coming west.

HIS FOUR KINGS WERE VERY GOOD

Tale of a Tenderfoot in a Poker Game Who Ate the Sixth Card in a Sandwich.

"Poor Pat Sheds," said a sporting editor, "used to entertain me when I visited his art shop with gambling tales."

"There was one tale about a sandwich that I rather liked. I seem, according to this tale, that a bartender in Tombstone, or Dead Cat, or some such town, connived with three sharpers, and God help any tenderfoot that ever ventured to sit in a little poker game among that crew."

"One night the tenderfoot imaginably after half a dozen drinks in the saloon agreed to take a hand in a dollar-limit game."

"Things went along in the usual way for a while; then an amazing series of nods and winks began to pass about. The bartender had signalled that the tenderfoot held four kings on the table. There were more nods and winks among that crew."

ENGLISH TEAM FOR S. AFRICA

Sixteen Splendid Players Have Been Selected and Will Tour the Diamond Fields.

The last number of the Athletic News to hand, has the following Association football team to represent England in South Africa, as picked by the selection committee of the P. E. C.

Goal, Hardy (Liverpool); Lievesley (Sheffield United); backs, Crompton (Blackburn Rovers), Benson (Sheffield United); half-backs, Richards (Derby County), Wedlock (Bristol City), Shriggs (Sheffield United); forwards, A. Berry (Everton), V. J. Woodward (Chester), Flanagan (Swindon), Hubbard (Birr), Holden (Sheffield United), D. G. Wright (Halliwell), and Wall (Nottingham United).

Proceedings, the critic says:

"This is an excellent combination which should arouse much interest in England that our cricketers have done down south. Crompton is the only doubtful starter, but if he does not make the trip, the party will be shorn of a great attraction. Even as it is the backs are the weakest section, and it will be impossible to replace the mainstay of the defence."

M. C. A. FOOTBALL PRACTICE

An important practice of the Y. M. C. A. football team will be held at Diamond Park on Friday night at 6:15. Every player that has thrown in his lot with the Y. M. C. A. is expected to be hand. The league schedule will commence shortly, and it is absolutely necessary that all the players in condition.

Bookies Use Wireless.

New York, April 7.—With the opening of the racing season in the metropolitan district only a week away, interest was excited in racing circles today by reports that the pool room operators were preparing to circumvent official ban upon them by arranging to flash results by wireless from tracks.

Dr. Roller Won.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 7.—Dr. J. A. Roller won here last night from Hanif Kalapsha, a Turk, both falls resulting from scissor holds on body. The time was 21 mins and 52 seconds and 14 mins. and 4 secs.

Wealthy Woman Suicides.

New York, April 7.—Mrs. Bertha Beyer, a wealthy widow, who has been under examination in the investigation of the robbery of Deepdale, the estate of Wm. K. Vanderbilt, several months ago, shot and killed herself yesterday at her home in New Hyde Park, Mineola, Long Island.

"That $700 is a lot of coin," remarks Johnny Kling. "I have to try to brush up on my pool game and try to get it back." Better avoid Hueston, De Oro and Keogh.

BRANDON HAS A GOOD TEAM

Manager Morrow's Line-Up—Will Release Stingle and Rogers—Team Trains at Rockford, Ill.

Brandon, April 7.—In a communication to the Sun, Manager Morrow, the Brandon leader, states that he has signed several men and has lines on several other fast players that will if secured be faster than anything ever seen in this country before. All the men signed by Morrow were the stars in semi pro. baseball around Chicago last year.

The men signed up to date are: First base—Palmer McIntyre, of Galena, Ill. Short stop—D. W. Billing. Second base—H. E. Hocking. Third base—L. D. Hartard. Catcher—John Cooper. Outfielder—A. O'Connor. Utility fielder—J. W. McGarry.

In addition to these new men, Brandon still holds Heinrich Stauden, Stanislaus, pitchers, and Catcher Stanleay. Stingle and Rogers will be released. Several new pitchers are also in view, and Manager Morrow hopes to sign them in within a few days. The Brandon team will report at Rockford, Ill., on April 15th, where they will play three games and then play at Aurora for another three days on April 22, 23, and 24. The team will finish its training trip at Madison, Wis., with three games on April 26, 27 and May 1st, leaving for home on the night of May 1st.

The training trip planned by Manager Morrow is considered one of the best to be obtained in the Wisconsin-Illinois league and should prove of great value to the team in getting it into shape and also prove a financial success.

Defeated the Leaders.

In the Y.M.C.A. basketball league the Kids defeated the Stars last night by a score of 37 to 25. The game was fast and closely contested throughout, the score at half time being 29 to 21. It required ten minutes overtime for the Kids to gain their lead of two points. The defeat of the Stars was probably due to the fact that they played four men to the Kids five, five.

Kids—Parney, Cullen, Dunham, Waukegan and Dykes. Stars—Clark, Duncan, Chown and Ash. Referee—Daw.

Here is a Record

In an exhibition game played recently at Hot Springs between the Regulators and the Yankees, Harry Melvin, left fielder for the Brooklynites, performed a great feat at bat. He started off with a single, then followed with a double in his second trip with the stick. His third essay was a triple and then he clinched his bat with a home run.

Jimmy Hisller, the well known Calgary ball player, who caught a number of games for the Calgary professional team last season in the Western Canada league, will play for Claresholm this summer in the Southern Alberta league.

The Alberta College line-up was: Goal, Hothekiss; full backs, Webster and Clayton; half backs, Cook, Sells and McLeods. Forwards, Bailey, Jackson, Driver, Hulster and Caldwell. Referee: Ridley.

There is a story just out that Coombs of the Athletics having received a raise went to Connie Mack and told the manager that he (Coombs) didn't want a raise as he didn't deserve one. The story came out one day prior to April 1st.

MILLER BILL IS SHELFED

The Anti-Race Law Will Not be Introduced Until Next Session.—"They're Off at the Woodbine."

Ottawa, Ont., April 7.—Secretary Fraser of the Ontario Jockey club, who was here to interview the government in connection with the Miller anti-race track bill, went back to Toronto last night well satisfied with the result of his mission.

It is understood that the government assured Mr. Fraser that the passage of the bill would not be attempted this session, thus clearing the situation.

Mr. Fraser announced prior to his departure that arrangements would be rushed for the annual meet of the Ontario Jockey club at Woodbine. It will take place on the usual dates.

The Montreal Jockey club has also informed to that effect and they will act accordingly in preparation for the 1910 meets at Blue Bonnets.

Jack Dunn, the Baltimore manager, has his eye on Foster, the last little infighter of the Highlanders. So has George Stallings.

CASEY'S NAME A HANDICAP

Detroit's New Catcher Will Have a Bad Time With the Fans This Season—He is no Relation to the "Famous" Casey.

San Antonio, Tex., April 7.—Casey might have changed it. The little Tiger catcher stuck to his name and it will cause him much inconvenience.

"Get to bat, Casey," "Watch Casey strike out," and other lines, however ridiculous, are barked at a certain baseball player who supports said baseball and Casey can expect some fine congratulations from the bleachers when the umpires announce his name before a game.

The young Tiger met Dr. James Casey, the veteran big leaguer, in Detroit before the team started for San Antonio.

Jimmy looked at the little catcher and woofed remarkably.

"You made a big mistake, my boy, I wouldn't have done it. The idea is bad."

"Done what? How'd I make a mistake? What idea is bad?" asked Casey.

"Can't you see—that name—CASE-Y—what's that I'm talking about? Why did you ever pick up that for baseball. You ought to have known better. Anything but that."

"How could I help it? It wasn't my fault. They handed it to me. It's my real name. No, don't rhyme business about that."

"Well, son, then you have my sympathy. I carried that name around with me in baseball for several years and I tell you, my boy—well, I don't want to discourage you, but you have certainly got my sympathy."

We're Glad to Hear It.

Doc Gibson stated that he is not in the lacrosse game this summer, nor even if the Tigers and the Saints get together. Doc also said he had played his last game of hockey, and possibly would not don the ruby uniform this fall—Albertan.

WANDERERS GET WATCHES

The Grand Trunk Boat Club gave a banquet to Puc Glass and Ernie Johnson of the Wanderers last night. The hockey stars were each presented with a handsome gold watch.

"I'd rather catch than do anything else," declared Bill Overall. "Oh, the fortunate farnar!" exclaims the city man. "How I'd like to live in the city," sighs the farmer man.

ALTA. A.A.A. MEET FOR CALLIES

Lethbridge is Disputing Our Right to the Provincial Meet and Calgary is Furthering the Claims of its Neighbor.

A dispatch from Lethbridge states that the location of this year's provincial athletic meet lies between that city and Edmonton, and that Hon. W. A. Buchanan is working hard to land the plum for his baillie.

Local Edmontonians fear their interests are being neglected, the Capital is informed that the local governors are working tooth and nail to secure the meet for the Edmonton Callies.

Mr. Ballantine sent a very strange letter to Edmonton in which he stated he was greatly in favor of Lethbridge, and termed Edmonton's opposition as a case of north against the south. Sectional feeling has nothing whatever to do with this. It is a case of the city which is entitled to the meet getting it.

Edmonton's Claim to the Meet

What city in Alberta contains more athletes than Edmonton, and to prove that it is not a case of "Quantity without quality," turn to the result of the provincial meet of 1909 at Calgary. Edmonton took sufficient interest to send a team of sixteen men, picked from its three large athletic associations, the Caledonians, the Y. M. C. A., and Irish Canadian A. A. A. These men practically cleaned up the boards of every prize. From the sprints, middle and long distance runs, to the field events, they were pre-eminent.

How many men did Lethbridge have at the meet? Three. How many Calgary men came to Edmonton in 1908 when the provincial meet was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Young Liberal club? If the records speak rightly, only one Calgary athlete turned up. And now Mr. Ballantine thinks Lethbridge should have the 1910 meet. We should like to ask why?

Callies Should Have It.

Edmonton Caledonians have applied for the meet and Mr. J. W. Ward our local governor, holds the contention, and very rightly, that this meet should be held alternately, in Calgary and Edmonton, the largest centres of population in the province. The Callies held an extremely successful field day last summer, with entries from all over Northern Alberta, and should they not carry off such a programme as the Kite's taste?

Another one of Ballantine's claims is that three of the trophies were donated by local firms; namely, the All-Round Championship Shield, and the Cups for the mile and five mile events.

In addition, the Callies have promised trophies for the 100 yards dash and the tug-of-war.

Calgary had the meet last year, and Edmontonians did all in their power to help make it a success. This year, when it should be ours without any question, the southern city seems on to kill our chances.

The Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of the Alberta A. A. A. is as follows: Stratford district, Hon. C. W. Cross; Edmonton district, J. W. Ward; Victoria district, F. A. Walker, M. P.; Calgary district, M. S. McCarthy, M. P.; Red Deer district, W. A. Moore; Macleod district, Dr. G. A. Stanley; Medicine Hat district, Hon. W. A. Buchanan; secretary-treasurer, H. Ballantine, Calgary, who has no vote.

A mail vote is now being taken and if it does come to a question of north versus south, which would be deplorable, it leaves W. A. Moore, of Red Deer, with the balance of power. He will very likely cast his ballot for Edmonton, as he cannot help but see that this city has a prior claim to Lethbridge.

CITY COUNCIL GETS NUMEROUS KNOCKS

the platform to discuss a leaflet that had been handed out at the door. This leaflet asked in stinging black letters, "What Shall the City Square Be Used For?" In answering this question a letter signed by Stimmel was introduced. Stimmel retracted it.

Travis-Barker next took the floor and denounced in fiery terms what he described as an attempt on Mr. Latta's part to introduce section feelings into the discussion of the by-laws. He told how the East End Local Improvement had been doing a good work in the past, but had been disbanded because it aroused sectional feelings.

"It was not a palace in some dreamland Utopia that we sought," said Mr. Barker, "but drains and sidewalks and well-paved streets. The East End association was dissolved because it appealed to sectional patriotism."

But now Mr. Latta attempted to call from the dead and to resurrect this sectional feeling. If the east end extensions were used it will be because of his ill-timed and indiscreet agitations."

J. H. Picard had some remarks to make about the retaining of the present market site. He advocated retaining it, and advanced arguments similar to those used at Tuesday night's council meeting.

Ald. Gariepy Re Power House.

Alderman Gariepy, in replying to Mr. Picard's demands as to why the appointment of a public works commissioner had been delayed, stated that the Mayor and he had had the report ready, but it had been delayed in waiting for the Francis' report. He thought, however, that he could assure the audience that the question would be settled at tomorrow night's special meeting of the council.

"In regard to Mr. Clegg's question as to whether the council has the power to violate one of their own by-laws," said Ald. Gariepy, "I would say that I only discovered the other day that the power house was built without a permit. The mayor and the councillors cannot know all these things, but when we discover what official is to blame for this mistake, I am quite prepared to censure him, and if necessary to dismiss him." (Cheers)

Ald. Gariepy then referred to the Francis' report, and pointed out that it was the council that was blamed. Something, so Mr. Francis said, was wrong with the organization of the city, and this would be looked into. "I have heard a good many remarks tonight," continued the speaker, "in regard to the 'bunching' of the items in the by-laws. It has been said the amounts in some cases are too large. That is just one reason why the by-laws are bunches. If they were presented in separate items, the amounts would probably be small, but only a few would really suffice the total amount, which might be more than the citizens wished to spend."

Supt. Taylor's report was next discussed. Ald. Gariepy pointing out that the proposed extensions, although recommended by Mr. Taylor, did not mean that the system would be ruined. It now rested with the ratepayers whether they would or would not support the action of the council.

Ald. Lundy Explains.

Alderman Lundy next spoke, explaining why he had voted against Supt. Taylor's report. It was, he said, because several amounts had been put in the report that would not be required this year. There was $10,000 for the high level bridge, $30,000 for a subway in the east end, and also expenses for sewers and damages in connection with this subway.

Ald. Hyndman, in response to calls from the audience, spoke briefly along the same lines as Alderman Gariepy and Lundy. He agreed with Mr. Francis' suggestion that the council should be purely legislative, and stated they should have experts for commissioners and not men of mediocre ability.

C.N.R. BOATS FASTEST YET

"Royal George" and "Royal Edward" Will Make New Records.

WILL BE FLOATING PALACES

In Planning These Boats the Idea Was to Provide at Sea All Pleasures of Land.

Montreal, April 7.—The triple screw turbine steamships Royal Edward and Royal George, which are to be operated by the Canadian Northern Steamships Limited from Montreal to Bristol, are to be the most luxurious vessels ever seen in the St. Lawrence.

These two steamships, which are now being prepared for the North Atlantic service by the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company on the Clyde, were constructed by the same firm in 1907 and 1908 and ran for one season as the "Cairo" and "Helopolis" in the Mediterranean.

Both vessels are similar and the chief dimensions are as follows:

Length over all, 545 feet; breadth, 60 feet 3 inches; tonnage, 12,000 gross; horsepower, 18,000; in the trial trips 260 knots were recorded, and they are fully expected to break all records between Montreal and Great Britain.

In originally planning the construction of these vessels the dominant thought was to provide at sea all the pleasures of land, and the boats are literally floating palaces.

Luxurious Library.

On the bridge deck is the library in the Regence style. The walls are panelled in oak. In the subtlety of the delicate mouldings and the rich restrained carving the designers have succeeded in capturing the elusive charm of this transitional work, examples of which are to be found in celebrated French chateaux as in the well-known one at Rombouillet, decorated during the period between the death of Louis XVI. and the time when Bonaparte established himself at Braine. The carvings are exceptionally fine. There is in this room a general effect of repose, enhanced by the restful combinations of grey oak with the uncommon shades of green employed in the covering of the chairs, etc. One is here reminded of the delightful Bibliotheque found in the houses of the French noblesse. All the details of the chairs, fauteuils, etc., are from fine models of the period.

The music room on the promenade deck is a charming room furnished in white.

Saloon Seats 26.

The first class dining saloon is undoubtedly the most striking apartment of all. It occupies the whole breadth of the ship and is 77 feet in length. The design is of the Georgian period and in all 260 persons can sit down at one time, and the cuisine is excellent.

The second class passengers enjoy only a shade less luxury and beauty of surroundings than their saloon fellow passengers. The second class dining saloon is 60 by 30 feet and accommodates 180 people.

There are six passenger decks, passenger elevators serving four decks, a system of Thermo-tanic ventilation and the vessels are equipped with the very latest marine devices such as the Marconi wireless and deep sea telephone.

The cabin-decks are executed in Sheraton style in inland mahogany and satinwood and are exceptionally comfortable and refined.

Mental to Liverpool.

Sailings will be from Birth 10, King Edward Pier, Montreal (Quebec), to the King Edward Docks, Bristol, England, from which point a two-hour train service has been arranged to London, England, thereby making a further reduction in time to the capital of the Empire.

There is accommodation for 350 saloon passengers, 200 second class and 600 third (rooms have been provided for the third class passengers instead of the steerage, the ordinary emigrant ship). Also 1,000 cubic feet of cold storage space and additional space for 1,000 tons of high class freight and express, the freight accommodation being equipped with ventilating fans and cool air system.

The lord mayor of Bristol, F. B. Girdlestone, manager of the Bristol docks, and the management of the Great Western Railway are receiving the congratulations of the shipping interests on the other side in having succeeded in securing that port as the English terminal for the new fast line.

MURDER LEAGUE WAS BROKEN UP

After Three Weeks Police Succeed in Capturing Outlaw Band in the Solomon Islands.

Victoria, April 7.—A "League of Murder," organized by Chief Sto in the Solomon Islands with a program involving the assassination of all white men who took native wives, was broken up with the arrest of the leaders, according to advice received by the Steamer "Harana" today.

Chief Sto and his band were responsible for many murders of white men, the last being the killing of a trader named Binks and his family, who were hacked to death by the blacks. A force of 200 native police under white officer's were sent to break up the outlaw band and after a campaign lasting three weeks they captured Chief Sto and twelve of his followers and killed seventeen during the last stand of the outlaws. These blacks are responsible for seventy killings, including Capt. Pratt and crew of a trading schooner. Sto was the last of the head hunting chiefs of the Solomon Islands.

Toronto, April 7.—Geo. H. Stephenson, a barrister, 45 years of age, standing in a Toronto, was yesterday arrested by Judge Denton to four months in jail on the charge of the theft of $80 from Mrs. Annie Petrie. Mrs. Petrie gave Stephenson the money to pay over on a real estate deal and Stephenson says he lost it.

TEST LIQUOR CASE

Liquor Case Before the Magistrate This Afternoon is an Interesting One.

For an alleged infraction of the liquor law in that they are said to have sold intoxicating liquor to a firm or person who sold the liquor without having a license for same, Messrs. Wilson and Company, wholesale liquor merchants of Jasper ave., will be prosecuted this afternoon. The case is arousing a great deal of interest among local liquor men, as there is no doubt that they have all at various times sold liquor to people who have in turn sold it to others without the necessary license. The question being asked by the liquor men is whether they are to be prosecuted or whether they sold the liquor in turn disposing of it. This is the first prosecution for a case of this kind in the province.

PRESIDENT CLARKE IS EXPECTED SOON

Will be Here in Good Time to Appear Before the Royal Commission.

"Mr. Clarke will be here in time for the reopening of the investigation; we expect him some time within the next five days." This is the information given out at the Alberta and Great Waterways offices this morning. Mr. Clarke is president of the company and his name has constantly been mentioned both in the Legislature and by the counsel before the Commission. Before the Commission adjourned a little over a week ago it was announced that Mr. Clarke would come to Edmonton and be prepared to submit all his dealings with the government to the searchlight of public opinion and he is now in the East gaol.

Mr. Clarke will arrive with Mr. Minty and Mr. Robson who is acting as their counsel before the Commission.

INSANITY SEEMS TO BE EPIDEMIC

Eleven People Were Committed to Asylums in Montreal Within the Last Three Days.

Montreal, April 7.—Since last Monday no less than eleven persons have been sent to asylums for insanity by Doctors Picote and Villeneuve. It seems almost as if an epidemic of insanity has struck the city. Annie Welsh, nee Riordan, who was arrested last week on a charge of assault and demanded for mental examination, will be sent to Longue Pointe asylum. She is the daughter of Timothy Riordan who on Christmas eve killed Bridget Lassell and was afterwards declared insane by a jury. Father and daughter will be inmates of the same asylum.

MR. CUSHING IN CALGARY

Will be Heard When the Royal Commission Resumes.

Word was received in the city this morning that W. H. Cushing, ex-Minister of Public Works, had returned from the West and is now in Calgary, ready to come here to the resumption of the Waterways investigation. He will be one of the first witnesses called for the production of documents when the case resumes.

Wouldn't Sell School Lands.

Ottawa, April 7.—In the Senate yesterday Senator Davis moved: That in view of the rapid increase in the value of Western provinces, this Senate is opposed that school lands in these provinces should be withdrawn from sale, and leased only, until such time as they can be sold to the best advantage in the interest of public schools of the provinces in which they are situated.

GOOD CLASS OF MEN

Men Looking For Employment Are Prospective Settlers.

Among the visitors to the city are George H. Webster, of Winnipeg, and Arthur Leach, of Nebraska, both well known railroad contractors. Mr. Leach is a partner in Leach Bros., which firm has a number of contracts in Alberta.

In speaking of the scarcity of labor this morning Mr. Webster stated that although at the present time he was able to get all the men he wanted he was expecting to be hard pressed for labor before the end of the season. "One noticeable thing about the men coming into town at the present time to work in the railroad camps is that they are a better class than we have been able to get during the last few years," he said. "They are coming here to settle and are taking work on the roads to get the lay of the land."

WEATHER FORECAST.

All West: Fair and cool. Throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan the weather has been fair and quite warm, maximum temperatures of 70 degrees and over being recorded, while in Alberta it has turned much cooler with light rain and snow.

CITY IN TRANSITION STATE

Mr. Francis Says That Edmonton's Rapid Growth is Cause of Disarrangement Civic Organization.

A close perusal of the report of W. J. Francis, discloses many interesting facts. That Mr. Francis, from his standpoint as an expert in engineering matters, is firmly convinced that a reorganization of the city's government is absolutely necessary, is evident from the following words that he uses:

"It must be borne in mind that Edmonton's development from a comparatively unimportant town to a city of prominence in the short space of say six years, is unprecedented, and it is perhaps quite fair to assume that most of the expenditure, undoubtedly inadvertently made, may be considered as a part of the cost of the city's phenomenal growth. Be that as it may, it is now quite time that a complete reorganization of the city's management should be made. If such a course be not taken I can see nothing for it but a horrible example of failure of municipal enterprise. The Capital City of Sunny Alberta is known in the east as a model in municipal ownership. Continue in your present course and you develop a condition that will delight the heart of the most advanced Socialist or the professional graftier, but, on the other hand, you develop business affairs in the hands of a group of untrained, business commission-ers, hired, modelled after the successful manufacturing and financial concerns, in which the council, corresponding to the directors, determines the policy, and the commissioners symbolizing the management, carry on the business part of that policy, and Edmonton's success in municipal enterprise is assured."

Power Plant in Bad Shape.

In going into the condition of the power plant at present, and in pointing out the changes that should be made, immediately, Mr. Francis has many things to say.

He says that the old building, the engine room, the boiler room, the Hargraves addition, and the pump wing are all in a very bad state of repair. The lighting of the engine room and boiler room is atrocious. "I can see no reason," said he, "why these buildings should continue to cumber the ground."

The gas producer, and several of the engines were scored.

In regard to the reconstruction of the plant, Mr. Francis says:

"The great difficulty you have confronting you, is to operate the plant with any reasonable degree of economy. You have not yet reached the stage when the finer points of operation can be considered."

That year plant is mainly in a state of transition. The remedy is the reconstruction of the plant, making the best of what you have on hand."

The new arrangements briefly are: The removal of the old engine room, the Hargraves addition, and the old pump-pit, and the joining up of the building where the gas producer plant is located at present, and the large building that is the most recent addition to the plant, and which is not yet completed; the replacing of the Robin horizontal engines and their generators; the replacing of the boilers in the old building; and the disposal of one of the boilers and two of the pumps in the same building.

The formation of one large engine room for the whole plant is also advocated and the chief item of expense would be here, in laying the foundations for the two new engines.

"This arrangement," says the report "will be an additional advantage, considering the division of operating costs between the various departments, as far as is necessary. The consolidation of the boiler plants will be especially responsible for the city water supply from the source to the taps."

"All this work should be started without delay," is the advice of the expert.

Distribution of Cost

The report also answers several questions asked by the investigating committee as follows:

Question: What proportion of the capital expenditure that has been incurred is chargeable to: (a) the Waterworks Department; (b) the Electric Light and Power Department; (c) the Street Railway Department.

Answer: On a total expenditure of $696,189.66 up to January 31, 1910, the following division is made:

Waterworks $164,073.76

Electric Light 402,063.79

Street Railway 133,053.41

Question: What is the proportion of operating costs in the same department?

Answer does not give any fractional estimate, but explains why the correct estimate may be arrived at.

Question: What amount of water is being pumped for the waterworks department, and what is the pumping capacity of the plant for this purpose?

Answer: The present pumping rate is 2,170,000 gallons per 24 hours. When new Ingalls pump is installed capacity of pumping station will be 4,500,000 gallons per twenty-four hours.

Question: What amount of electrical energy is being generated for the street railway, and what is the capacity of the plant for this purpose?

Answer: During February 4.31 kilowatt hours per car mile. Capacity about 800 kilowatts.

Question: What is it costing per unit at the plant? (a) To pump water for the waterworks department; (b) for electric light and power department; (c) for electrical energy for the street railway?

Answer: (a) Cost per 1000 gallons of 4.21 cents; (b) Cost per kilowatt hour was 3.01 cents; (c) Cost per kilowatt hour, 288 cents.

Extravagant Item.

Question: Are the quantities of oil, fuel, waste, and boiler compound used in the past in excess of the quantities necessary for proper operation?

If so, by how much? What would be the required quantities in each of these articles per year?

Answer: All these articles were used in excess of last year. Coal: At present the consumption of coal is fairly constant. Oil: Last year, $13,465. Amount required $175 per month, giving yearly cost of $2,100, a saving of over $1,000. Waste: Last year, $685 per hour and a half tons per month giving total of one and a half fiftieth tons per year, a saving of $1,000. Fuel: Last year, $1,870 being cost of twelve tons. "Refined Soda Ash" is just as good as the expensive compound the city has been using. It sells for a cent a pound, and Mr. Francis estimates the amount necessary to keep the boilers clean at twenty lbs. a day, or about three and a half tons a year. The cost of this would be about $73 a year, a saving of about $800. This item alone will more than pay for the cost of the report.

Other question touched on were the expansion of the waterworks and electric light systems. These were gone into fully. Mr. Francis also stated that damage was being done to the water mains by electrolysis.

In showing how the report was prepared, Mr. Francis, speaking for himself and his assistant, Mr. Ballantyne, has the following to say:

"This has been a long and difficult task. We made all the general visits, readings, measurements and building examinations that seemed advisable. All questions which would guide us in our conclusions and in determining future needs were studied as far as possible. The local conditions of population, climate, daylight, freight rates, labor and material costs were carefully gone into, as were the development and operation costs at the power plant."

The case Larose and Bell vs. Dr. McMillin, heard in the district court of Athabasca before Judge Noel, was heard yesterday afternoon. His honor reserved judgment.

At the Alberta-L. St. Louis, Chicago; E. E. Hall, Vancouver; D. Gunn, Fort Saskatchewan; H. S. Wilson, Winnipeg; G. E. Petech, C. A. Campbell, J. H. Halberstadt, L. L. Knight, F. B. Selleck, Buffalo, Mont.; W. H. Goader, Montreal; F. L. Hopkins, Hardisty; O. H. Dingman, Calgary.

The case six new street cars ordered by the city some time ago will arrive here towards the latter part of this month, according to Superintendent Taylor, and on their arrival will be immediately placed in commission.

The new cars are all of the pay-as-you-enter design and are up-to-date in every way.

Mr. James K. Cornwall, M.P.P. for Peace River, who has been in Calgary for the past week, is expected home today. Mr. Cornwall is mentioned as the defendant in the suit for $250,000 which will be brought against him by Alfred Hawes of Toronto, but as yet the writ in this case has not been issued, although it is understood Mr. Henwood, who is acting for Hawes, received instructions to go ahead with the case some time ago.

COLD WATER WON BATTLE

FIRE BRIGADE GOT THE BEST OF THE RAILWAY COMPANY.

FOUGHT TO DEFEND CROSSING

Eric Railroad Contested the Right of the Village to Establish Crossing Over its Tracks.

PATERSON, N. J., April 6.—Three streams directed by volunteer firemen helped officials and citizens of the borough of Garfield, led by Mayor Karl, to win a partial victory over the Erie Railroad at a disputed crossing.

The three Erie leaders—John F. Collins, a section boss; Edward F. Froude, a freight conductor, of Jersey City, and W. H. Ball, a brakeman of Paterson, were jailed.

Garfield is on the line of the Bergen short cut, used principally for express trains and through freight. The Erie and borough officials have been in dispute over the right of the borough to establish a crossing at Van Winkle avenue. At a conference of the mayor and council Wednesday night, it was decided to lay the crossing at once.

When the section foreman made his rounds this morning, accompanied by a score of Italian laborers, he ordered the men to tear up the timbers that had been spiked down between the tracks by the boronites. The borough watchman on guard sent a red alarm, and the seven fire companies, with Major Karl, the councilmen and many citizens, turned out.

Collins communicated with Jersey City and was directed to have all the freight cars in the vicinity taken to the crossing. With an augmented force Collins sought to subdue the firemen when they threatened to play the hose. A hand to hand encounter followed, in which Collins and several others were battered.

The railroad men took refuge in a caboose and engine that had run off the track, but they were driven out by three streams of hose, thoroughly drenched. When the three leaders returned to the attack Mayor Karl ordered the police to arrest them. They were released on bail.

The Erie despatched a special train from Jersey City containing counsel, officials and detectives and a gang of workmen. Fearing more trouble Mayor Karl appointed twenty-five special policemen and armed them with axes and hammers. Two hundred citizens stood ready to assist the special policemen, and the firemen stood ready with hose, but the Erie officials announced that they had come to talk matters over.

It was agreed to allow the lawyers to settle the dispute. It is likely that the issue will be carried to the courts, with the Erie on the defensive.

The fight caused a suspension of traffic on the short cut for eight o'clock in the morning to four o'clock in the afternoon.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

How One Authority Forecasts Season of 1910 in the West

Mr. A. E. Boyle, western representative of the Toronto Globe, writes to his paper under date of March 29:

It is possible that an early seedling may have many drawbacks as a late one. A few years ago some farmers, who had sown early, suffered a spell in February, to plant wheat and they looked forward with confidence to a harvest in June. The seed idle in the ground for six weeks after it was planted, and it really began to do business about the third week in April. In the interval there had been a bad "hunch of weather," including a couple of blizzards and some cold winds. The enterprising tillers of the soil were eventually elevated to the anxious seat, but they managed to pull off their crops at the end of August without damage.

Since that time they have not been enthusiastic about the subject of early seeding. Conditions in 1910 do not, of course, tally with those of the remarkable season just mentioned, for the spells of disagreeable weather have, so far, been limited, to a couple of days.

But the time is not yet out for the seeds, and still another year comes in earnest there will be no chance of telling whether the March sowing will be successful.

If the grain which has been planted since riper in July in 1910 will demonstrate the advantages of an early start. If, however, it should halt, and stumble in its development, it may be overtaken by the late grain which is to be sown next month. There is a diversity of opinion regarding the possible advantages of an early cropping, and experience has been cited in favor of and in opposition to the idea. There is no doubt that the character of the growing season is of infinitely more importance than the date of sowing. Last year proved that favorable conditions after planting more than made up for a late start, and if the conditions are not favorable this year, the fact that the crop, or any portion of it, happened to be sown in March will be of little avail.

The danger from early sowing lies in the possibility of spring drought. The snowfall during the winter months was heavy enough, but it went away quickly, and the moisture did not have a proper chance to penetrate the grounds. Late rains have fallen within the past few days in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and these have been more than welcome.

More rain will be needed in April, and unless there is a bountiful rainfall the outlook for the grain already sown will not be bright. The summer rains, without which no crop can survive, do not usually begin until late in May, and the interval means much to the germinating wheat plant.

It is evident that there will be a huge increase in the area sown, to each of the four leading grains. The early spring has confirmed previous impressions in that connection. There are enthusiasts who expect that 15,000,000 acres will be devoted to the raising of grain in the three Provinces this year, and of this vast tract at least 8,000,000 will be in wheat.

It is evident that there will be a

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"Ah, I see," she said, apparently very much relieved. "You want me only, with the understanding that death should be quite close at hand to relieve you. And if I were to become your wife here and now, and we should be taken from this dreadful place—what then?"

"You probably would have to go through a long and miserable career as plain Goodwife Chase," he explained.

"If it will make you any happier," she said, with a smile in which there lurked a touch of mischievous triumph, "I can say that I might consent to marry you if I were not so positive that you had no love in the island. You seem to forget that my uncle's yacht is to call here, even though your creditors will not."

"I'll risk even that," he maintained stoutly.

She stopped her hands, her hand upon his arm.

"Do you really love me?" she demanded earnestly.

"With all my soul, I swear to you," he replied, staggered by the abrupt change in her manner.

"Then don't make it any harder for me," she said. "You know that I could not do what you ask. Please, please be fair with me. I—I can't even jest about it. It is too hard to ask of me, and wait on while a silent torment is in my voice."

"It would require centuries just to make me forget that I am a princess, just as centuries were taken up in creating me what I am. I am no better than you, dear—but—will you understand?" She could not prolong her speech, so hopeless was that he understood what it was that she could not say to him. "We seldom, if ever, marry the men whom God has made for us to love."

He lifted her hands to his breast and held them there. "If you will just go on loving me I'll some day make you forget you're a princess." She smiled and shook her head. Her hair gleamed red and bronze in the kindly light; a soft perfume came up to his nostrils.

The next day three of the native servants became violently ill, seized by the most appalling convulsions. At first a thrill of horror ran through the chateau. The plague—the plague in reality!

But these fears were quickly dispelled. The sufferers soon began to mend. By nightfall they were fairly well recovered. The mysterious seizure however was unexplained. Chase alone divined the cause of the illness. "It was sure of it! But who the policeman?"

All previous perils and all that the future seemed to promise were forgotten in the startling discovery that with the fall of night

Lord Deppingham and Robert Browne were missing! They had disappeared as if swallowed by the earth itself! Neenah, the wife of Selim, was the last of those in the chateau to see them. They crossed the swift torrent, leaped the bridge, and descended the cliff and plunged below the mouth of the cavern, which blew its cool breath out upon the hanging garden. Later on she saw them climb the stanch ladder and stand in the black cavern, apparently enjoying the view which they could from the damp bowls of the mountain. Her attention was called elsewhere, and that was the last glimpse she had of the two people about whom centered the struggle for world riches.

"Once they are lost in there," groaned Deppingham, numb with apprehension. He was trembling like a leaf.

"There's just one thing to do," said Chase. "We've got to explore to the end. They may have lost their bearings and strayed off into one of the lateral passageways."

"I can't bear the thought of her wandering about in that horrible place," Deppingham cried as he started resolutely toward the ladder.

"She'll come out of it all right," said Chase, a sudden compassion in his eyes.

Drusilla Browne was standing near by, cold and silent with dread, a set expression in her eyes. Her lips moved slowly, and Deppingham heard the bitter words: "You will find them, Lord Deppingham. You will find them!"

He stopped and passed his hand over his eyes. Then, without a word, he reached a rifle from the hands of one of the lateral passageways.

"I'm afraid of him, Hollingsworth," he whispered shuddering.

"Von Blitz's powder keg did all this."

Four directions, like the tentacles of a monster devilish, the narrow passages leading no one knew whither.

Selim uttered the first shout of surprise and consternation. An instant later they were standing at the edge of a vast hole in the floor—newly made and pregnant with disaster.

They fell into the abyss, up into their feet.

The soft, loose earth within the hole was packed down in places by the weight of tramps. Chase's bewildest eye saw the floor of the cavern, the presence of loose, scattered masses in the pile below, and the truth dawned upon him sharply. He gave a loud exclamation and then dropped lightly into the same hole.

"I can't get out," he said, stooping to peer intently ahead. "Von Blitz's powder kegs did all this."

The secret passage runs along here. One of the discharges blew this hole through the floor of the cavern. There are the ruins of the passage. By heaven, the way is open to the sea!"

"My God, Chase!" cried Deppingham, staggering toward the opening. "These footprints are—they've murdered her! They're come in here and summary justice has been done."

"We used to be cool now. It's all as plain as day to me."

Rausin and his men were exploring the passage after the discovery of the treasure chest. They came upon this new made hole and then crawled into the dark recesses of the cavern.

"Yes, here are the prints of a woman's shoe—and a man's too. They are gone. God help 'em!"

Sigis of a fierce struggle were found with a fierce oath on his lips.

"His ugly, useless eyes were gleaming with something more than despair. They were the wild light of despicable relief in them."

"It was as if a horrid doubt had been cast, Chase, forever he groaned."

CHAPTER XXVII.

DEPPINGHAM sprang to his feet with a fierce oath on his lips. His usually lustless eyes were gleaming with something more than despair. They were the wild light of despicable relief in them. "Take care of him, Hollingsworth," he whispered shuddering.

A Merchant Must make it Pay You. To Read His ADS!

WHATEVER he does to make his store of more importance to you than is the store of his competitor must be explained, hinted or suggested to you—and he can only do that by en chaining your attention to his ads.

He is aware that you "know things" about stores—about goods—values, prices. He, therefore, knows that to advertise something that is actually high-priced—or, not actually priced on a profit-dividing plan—is to merely give proof of the non-usefulness of his store to you.

Now, the merchant knows that his store is useful to you. And he knows that he must make it more and more so. So his problem resolves itself into this:

That as only Good Values offered make good advertising, he must make everything in his store advertisable. Thus, to make store-keeping pay he must be a big advertiser; and to make advertising pay he must make it pay the person who reads it.

The inexorable logic of modern business, therefore, compels the merchant to make it pay you to read his ads.

D

Skaggs and Weykholm had been completely enveloped by the devil himself. They could not be foreseen for the rest of their infernal plotting. I am afraid—mortally afraid!"

"Take care of him, Hollingsworth," he whispered shuddering.

husband's husband.

"We must follow!" shouted his lordship, preparing to lower himself into the jagged opening. "We may be in time!"

"Stop, Deppingham!" cried Chase, leaping to his side. "Don't rash blindly into a trap like that. They've got an hour or more start of us. Nothing will be accomplished by rushing into an ambush. They'll kill us like rats. Rausin is a sagacious general. He'll have a council of all the heads. They will be a council of all the heads. It will be of no advantage to them to kill the heirs unless they are sure that we won't live to tell the tale. They will go slow now that they have the other obstacle to victory in their hands."

"If they will give her up to me I will guarantee that Lady Agnes shall relinquish all claim to the estate," announced the harassed husband.

"They won't tempt them," protested Chase. "We've got to do what we can to rescue them. I'm with you, gentlemen, in the undertaking—first, for humanity's sake; second, because I am your friend. Last, because I don't want to leave them to have a chance of winning out in this controversy by acting like confounded asses. It isn't what Sir John expects of me."

In the dim light of the dimly cavelike entrance, the old Drusilla was still clinging to the neck of the princess. Chase snatched Deppingham's arm and held him back gravely, saying that Drusilla should lead the way.

Several new prizes have been offered to the Edmonton Exhibition. Ernest Brown, Jasper avenue east, has offered three prizes of photographs, valued at $10 each. With the heads of the majority of the departments away at the Calgary Horse Show, only routine business is being conducted at the government offices, and there is practically no news there. The Minister of Agriculture is not expected back until Saturday and it is probable that the deputy will also remain south until that time. Premier Rutherford may return tomorrow but this is problematical. The Deputy Minister of Public Works is also down south on a trip of inspection and will not return until the end of the week.

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

Work on the Arts Building will probably commence the beginning of next week.

The excavation for Alberta College is completed excepting a few slight alterations and the cement work is to be pushed forward with all possible despatch.

Mr. Alex. Greene leaves today for Calgary, where he expects to again obtain the position of brakeman with the CPR.

The lectures in connection with the University of Alberta close on May 14th. The final exams will commence May 18th.

E. F. Taylor, formerly of the Bank of Commerce staff of Vermilion, has been transferred to the branch of the same bank here as ledger-keeper.

Mr. S. Smith left yesterday for Wolfe Creek.

The police are very busy these days, persuading the owners of canines to "come through" with their tax and receive a tag for their pets. After May 1st owners must pay court costs if their dogs have not this year's tags.

We believe the dog which broke the window in the Strathtown Hotel last night was without a tag. There is one in view that the police will be called.

The work at the University Grounds is progressing well. The excavation for the dormitory is almost completed and will be ready for the cement work. There is already over half a million of brick at the dormitory site, besides hundreds of loads of gravel. Tenders are to be received for the clearing of the grounds.

Jimmie Fox, who appears in the Collegiate Assembly Hall on Friday, April 2nd, will be supported by a very strong company. The other members of the company are Miss Ida G. Elliott, a celebrated soprano; Miss Florence Gallicraft, a dramatic reader, and Mr. H. De Mille, a baritone. Miss Agnes Quigley is pianist.

On Tuesday, April 12th, at four o'clock, Mrs. Edwards of Macleod will address the women at a meeting in one of the churches. Mrs. Edwards is an active W.C.T.U. worker and is also in connection with the National Council of Women. Mrs. Edwards is mother of Prof. W. Muir Edwards of the University staff.

Mr. W. H. McMahon is re-opened his shop on Sixth street west, and will carry on the business of sign painter and decorator, as well as of paper hanger.
